Narrative
We wish to replace a cisco 2504 controller that has 15 wireless AP's currently in place in our 2 buildings. We would prefer Aruba brand. 20 AP's will be used inside the buildings, we will need 2 AP's for our ball fields set up in a Wireless Mesh configuration with the necessary back channel equipment(router) to connect those ap's to the internal network. Ball fields are directly behind the main building and connection would go from a baseball field, to a softball field, to the connection point router that brings the signal inside. The fields may be viewed using google maps above Twin Valley, MN. All new AP's must be 802.11AC capable with the exception that the outdoor mesh AP's do not have to have that ability if it is substantially more expensive. The division of AP's is as follows: 7 will go in our elementary building, the rest will go in the high school building. The controller is currently in the high school but can be placed in the elementary if need be to align with our budget for reimbursement. There is currently wiring in place for the 15 AP's that connect to the Cisco 2504 WLC. Those lines may be reused. They are split as follows: 6 in Elementary, 9 in High School. We will require a poe switch in each building to provide service to all new AP's. Switch must be at least GB speeds. The ball field mesh AP's will have 120v plug in service available. All installation will be provided by the vendor. All needed antennas, connectors, wiring is to be provided by the vendor to finish with a working wireless network. The current wireless network of 1 Cisco 2504 WLC and 15 Cisco AP's may be factored in for a trade in credit.
